OVERVIEW

STRATEGIC LOGISTICS LOCATION SOUTH OF BERLIN

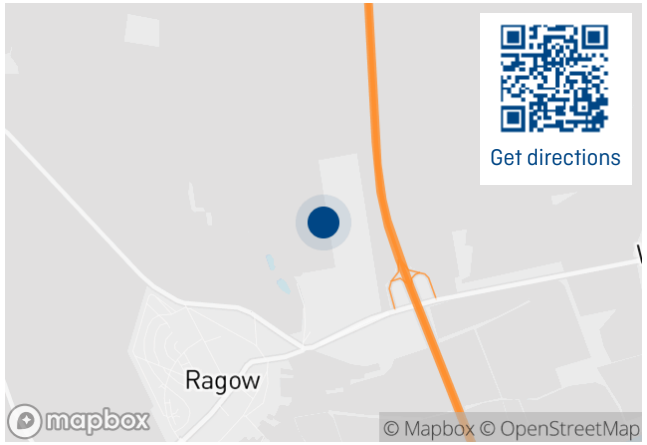

P3 Berlin Ragow is situated in an industrial area in Mittenwalde, which is located in Brandenburg, approximately 35 km south of Berlin. The site benefits from immediate access to the A13 motorway and is around 10.8 km from the interchange with the A10 Berlin Ring, which connects to major German motorways including the A2, A9, A11, A12, A13 and A24. Its location provides excellent regional and national connectivity, making it well suited for distribution, e-commerce and last-mile logistics.

EXCELLENT ACCESS TO AIRPORT & PUBLIC TRANSPORT

The property is located only around 9 km from Berlin Brandenburg Airport (BER), providing convenient access to international air transport. The nearest bus stop, Eichenallee, is approximately 900 m from the site and can be reached in around 10 minutes on foot. Together with direct motorway access, these transport links support efficient employee access and fast movement of goods across the Berlin-Brandenburg region and beyond.

STRONG ECONOMIC & LOGISTICS MARKET NEAR BERLIN

Berlin is Germany's capital and largest city, with a population of around 3.87 million as of June 2023, and is a major European centre for politics, media, culture, science and education. Its economy is driven by sectors including media, information and communication technology, tourism and biotechnology, while major employers include Deutsche Bahn, Charité, Siemens, Daimler and the public sector. The city also benefits from extensive rail infrastructure, including ICE high-speed services, and a dense motorway network around the A10 Berlin Ring. Combined with the proximity of Berlin Brandenburg Airport, these advantages strengthen Mittenwalde's position as an attractive logistics location for companies serving Berlin, Germany and wider European markets.
