OVERVIEW

The site near Teplice, in the Ústí nad Labem region, is strategically located in one of the most industrially developed areas of the Czech Republic, near the German border.

It offers direct access to key transport corridors, including motorways D7 and D8, connecting Prague, Dresden, and other major Central European cities.

The region is home to a strong base of industrial and logistics companies, especially in the energy, chemical, and manufacturing sectors, supported by a well-established infrastructure and skilled workforce. Its proximity to a major power plant ensures a reliable energy supply, making it ideal for high-demand operations.

The surrounding area offers a mix of industrial tradition and ongoing development, with access to regional services, technical education facilities, and a labor market experienced in production and logistics. This location is perfectly positioned for businesses seeking efficient cross-border reach and long-term operational stability in a dynamic economic zone.
